tory of the year

"Life is real; life is earnest!"

back again!

On Back to School Night, our parents returned to school, taking part in attending regular classes as we do during the day. Some soon found out how tiresome trudging up and down the stairs could be, while going from a first period class in 205 to a second period class in 17 and a third period class on the top floor in 214.

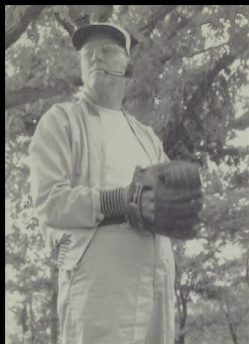

To see city governments in operation, government classes toured city hall, attending a session of City Court, visiting Mayor Dowling, and observing a City Council meeting.

the faculty "steps out"

Mr. Dewalt seems deep in thought while considering his first pitch. "What's the sign, Bub?"

The faculty "took to the (Thornton) Woods" right after school one chilly fall Wednesday. Fun and food kept them busy till dusk, when Injuns (and the principal, of all people) danced around a cozy camp fire to end festivities of "Injun Summer."

On B.I.E. Day teachers became familiar with business and industry by touring various plants and business establishments in the Calumet region. Shown are some interested teachers at Junior Toy.

Did you spot Miss Kessing, Miss Georgie Andersen, and Hazel?

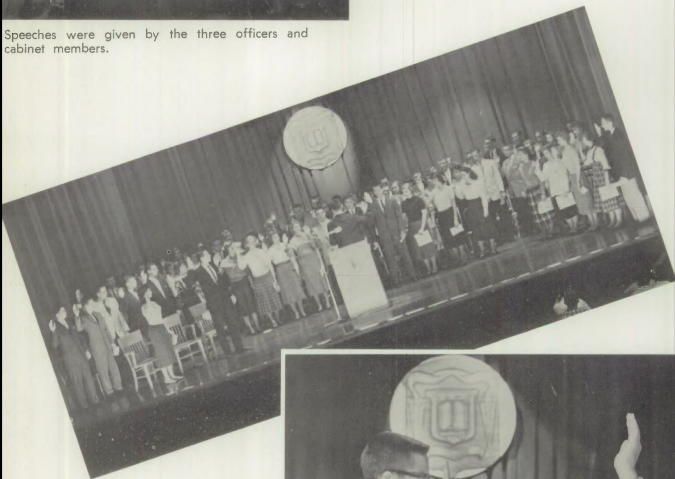

our government's never forgotten . . .

Constitution Day was commemorated with an assembly to remind the students of the structure and importance of the Constitution of the United States. Speakers, who each explained a phase of the Constitution, were Katie Tweedle, Don French, Dean Yellen, Marcia Vergin and Jerry Wagenblast.

In the annual Inaugural assembly, Wayne McIntyre was sworn in as the Association president for 1957-58. Also taking the oath of office were Nick Poulton, vice president, and Gayle Johnson, recorder. Cabinet members, Court judges, representatives of the House and Senators were also inducted.

The entire Hammond High School student body was given the school pledge and closed the momentous event with singing the Alma Mater.

Speeches were given by the three officers and cabinet members.

Dr. Rapp gives the oath of office to Wayne McIntyre, president of the Association.

... nor homecoming thrills ...

Students, teachers, and parents cheered as one when the 1957 H.H.S. football team roared to a 4 to 7 victory over their city rival, Hammond Tech, in the Homecoming game of the year.

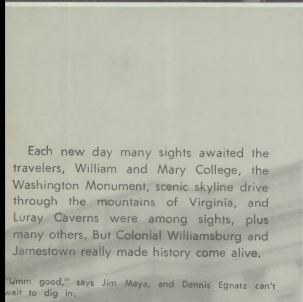

To start off the evening, a float with the cheerleaders and Willie led the cheering fans in a car parade.

At half-time the band under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Gekeler presented a skit entitled "This Is Your Life" using formations and the traditional band music. A soc hop, "Back to School Bounce," was held at the Civic Center to climax the evening.

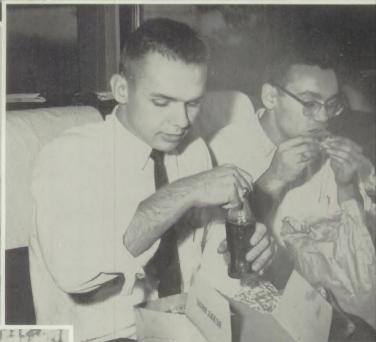

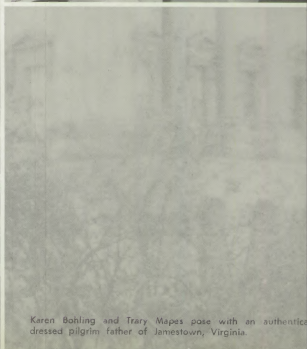

Looking as casual as possible this group of fellas anxiously awaits the train.

Each new day many sights awaited the travelers, William and Mary College, the Washington Monument, scenic skyline drive through the mountains of Virginia, and Luray Caverns were among sights, plus many others. But Colonial Williamsburg and Jamestown really made history come alive.

"Umm good," says Jim Maya, and Dennis Egnatz can't wait to dig in.

Karen Bohling and Trary Mapes pose with an authentically dressed pilgrim father of Jamestown, Virginia.

Fascinated by the Luray Caverns this group of junior girls poses.

Diane Eggers, Dennis Egnatz, Susie Crumpecker, and Tex Millet check up on what's next.

You can still hear everyone who went to Washington talking about the fun they had and the places they visited.

Hours on the train were spent eating, playing cards, eating, reading, sitting, gossiping, and more gossiping. Exploring the cities during their free time, students found many bargains and treasures to bring home to friends and families. One enterprising group brought a fifty pound ice cube to keep a couple bottles of pop they had cold. Others took a tour around Washington in a taxi and almost didn't make it back in time for departure.

seeking our goals . . .

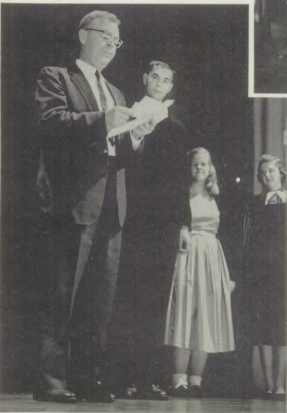

On November 12, the Eighth Annual College Night was held at Hammond High School. Representatives from many colleges and universities from various states came to individually counsel students and their parents. These counseling periods gave the parents and the students the opportunity to gain information which could help to judge the school for which the student was best suited.

Students had three choices of college representatives to visit. Some common questions asked were about tuition and campus life. Both the students and their parents left with a more secure outlook on the future.

Three Hammond High art students placed in the state division of the National Poppy Poster Contest. Karen Mallett went on to win a first place in the senior division of the national contest.

"Here's the date, November 15, that's right.

Gonna go and have some fun, what a night!

It's the party here at school, the holiday for us all.

Oh, what a happy time there will be . . . " was the theme for the All School Party, which we'll always remember.

"Then to make the night complete, as can be; There's a dance we're going to, you and me."

"After which we'll go and see our friends in the talent show."

"Looking forward first of all to the swim. Then some games or just some fun in the gym."

Toward Christmas many students seek part-time jobs. Some students obtain work at the placement bureau where jobs and their requirements are listed. Many opportunities are offered as clerks in shoe, food, and department stores. Obtaining a job requires being courteous, showing co-operation and a willingness to work.

With the assistance of Tommy Thompson, Fotis Eliou is selling Nancy VanDyke, a considerate customer, a pair of loafers.

The evening was brisk and wintery the night of the "Snow Ball" at St. John's Panel Room. Mickey Isley and his band provided the music as everyone danced to celebrate the beginning of Christmas vacation.

For the first time in many years, a queen was crowned. All the girls' names were placed in a bag and the winners were drawn by Miss Lovett Dixon, chaperone.

Even at a formal there are fast numbers.

Some couples rest their feet, while admiring the Christmas tree.

Mr. Pruth McFarlin, often called the "voice with a soul" appeared at Hammond High for a very successful assembly Wednesday, January 15.

Mr. McFarlin, born in Pensacola, Florida, has had a more or less musical background since his birth for his father was also a singer.

Trained at the Tuskegee Institute, Mr. McFarlin has been a concert singer for 15 years. During these years he has made two records "The Old Rugged Cross" backed by "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," and "Stranger of Galilee" and "Go Tell It on the Mountain."

career possibilities . . .

Dr. Banni Bannerjee of the Standard Oil Company's Research Department spoke to the physics classes.

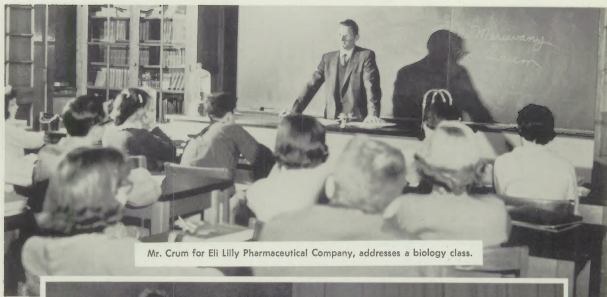

A program entitled Potential Careers in Engineering: Mathematics, Science, Biology, Physics, Chemistry, Economics—part of the vocational guidance program at Hammond High. Representatives from the above fields spoke to the science, math and economics classes to inform the students of the possible careers available to them. Auditorium sessions were also presented to introduce the whole student body to the different vocations.

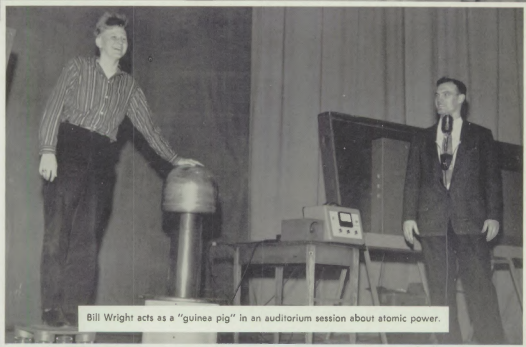

This program started at Hammond High four years ago and has steadily developed from one night meetings to classroom presentations.

Dr. Peter Klein and Dr. Robert Swick from the Argonne National Laboratory told biology students about their work and the opportunities in the field of biological and medical research.

first steps into politics

After vigorous campaigning new Association officers were elected for next year. Elected were Lenny Clark, president; John Highland, vice president; and Gail Bomberger, recorder.

As usual the new officers will take the reins in the fall and head the Hammond High School Association. The campaigning in 1958 was the most exciting and talked about in years. Many unusual methods and gimmicks were used this year that had never been tried before.

Voting machines were used in the primaries and final elections, as they have been in previous years. There was a great turn-out at the polls, as the students cast their vital votes in a tight race.

Gail's four "wild" kittens made four wild wishes. But as Gail says "The kittens have some growing up to do."

Two sleepy monitors, Jim Sullivan and Wayne Landers, are not too absorbed by the enormous campaign signs surrounding them.

forever remembered

The Junior-Senior Prom, presented by the junior class, will never be forgotten by those who helped plan the highlight of the year and those who danced with delight.

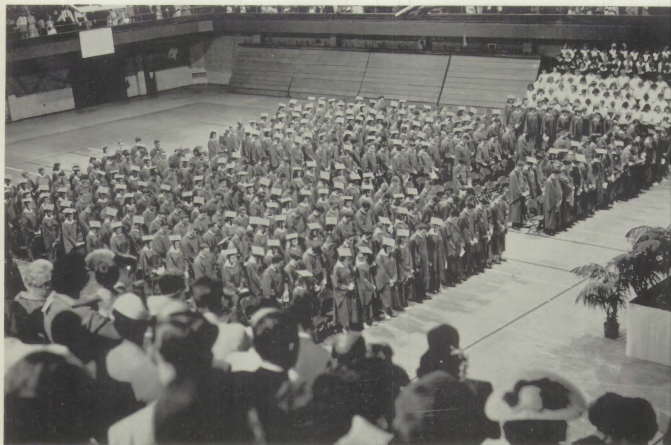

After many coke parties and pictures taken, everyone hurried to Madura's Danceland, on a lovely, enchanting, starlit evening. Dick Carlton and his orchestra provided the mood music for the "Fountain of Dreams."

Chicago and all its night life awaited many couples; individual parties were planned for others. Then, of course, everyone left many footprints in the sands at the beach the next day.

Many memories were represented by each footprint. These wonderful memories will remain with us for many years to come.

our footprints lead on

Graduating seniors and onlookers join in a moment of prayer.

Gathering together with friends and relatives, the graduates discuss their future plans and perhaps recall some high school incidents. Next they go on to dinners and parties to celebrate.

but graduates look back.

Exciting incidents, experiences and many acquaintances made during the past four years will long remain in the memories of the graduates, but at the moment only the future seems important and vital.

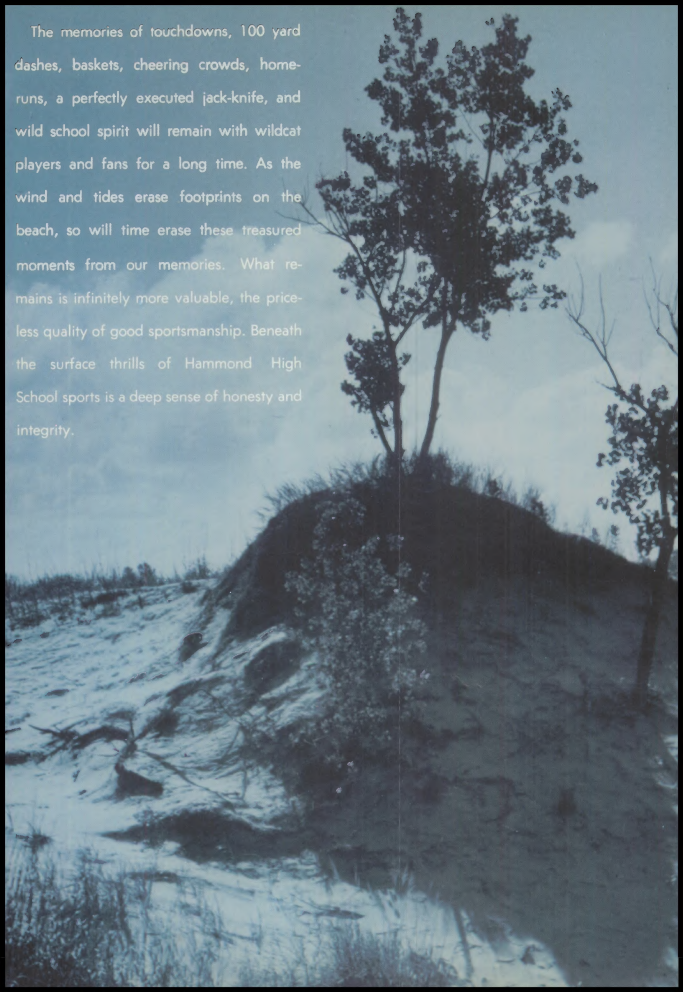

The footprints in the sands have covered many activities, and now they lead on. The foundation gained in high school will determine the success or failure of some students, either in college, business, or home life.

Farewells were expressed by students and faculty at the Senior Banquet.

"Sign my Dunes?"

The memories of touchdowns, 100 yard dashes, baskets, cheering crowds, home-runs, a perfectly executed jack-knife, and wild school spirit will remain with wildcat players and fans for a long time. As the wind and tides erase footprints on the beach, so will time erase these treasured moments from our memories. What remains is infinitely more valuable, the priceless quality of good sportsmanship. Beneath the surface thrills of Hammond High School sports is a deep sense of honesty and integrity.

from game to print

With much patience and skill Bill Kompf, a Bodie photographer, shot not only sports but every other section in the Dunes. Always cheerful, even when he's called at the last minute, Bill's a loyal friend to the Wildcats. When the picture's posed and the camera's set you'll here him snap, "All rightie."

"Sports Slants by Dave," a column appearing weekly in the Herald, expresses Dave Mahan's intelligent viewpoints and gives the fans some inside dope. Even though his predictions don't always turn out, Dave's column is clever, interesting, and fun reading.

Our interests like the shifting sands are always changing. At Hammond High there are many clubs, activities, and facilities for the student to sample and perhaps discover a real interest. This may lead to an avocation that could one day easily become a vocation. But more important, this program of activities fosters group co-operation, responsibility, achievement, and enjoyment.

A black and white photograph of a sandy dune landscape. In the foreground, there are sand dunes with some sparse vegetation. Several trees of varying sizes are scattered across the dunes, some appearing to grow in the crevices or on the slopes. The sky is filled with large, soft clouds. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

*"Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to act that each to-morrow
Finds us farther than to-day.*

working behind the scenes

For those interested in the dramatic arts and behind the scenes work, Dramatics Club and Stage Crew were provided. Maybe the footprints in the sand will lead to a theatrical career for some amateur actresses and actors in Dramatics while others will retain a life-long interest.

STAGE CREW

Bill Wright, Hilery Raab, Rich Rush, Jim Hall, Tom Turpin.

The purpose of this picture is to call attention to the hard work and service of the stage crew and their new uniforms. It's the behind the scenes work that gives the finishing touches to a performance.

Each footprint in the sand represents the effect a personality, emotion, or experience has on your life. By really getting to know many distinct types of people a broader outlook on life is obtained. A deeper sensitivity of the world around you is found through a keen curiosity and an open mind. The shadows cast by all these experiences, emotions, and personalities give a depth and perspective to your character.

*"Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again."*

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Junior year. How fabulous! Being upperclassmen now, the juniors have gained respect and are getting up in the world. They were so proud the day they received their class rings. There was the fun of the Washington trip, seeing historical monuments and appreciating even more the country's heritage. Then came the exciting elections of Association officers. The juniors were really influential at that time. They would determine next year's leaders. Next came the Junior-Senior Prom, the biggest social event of the year. All the dreams, plans, decorations, and waiting came to an end with the reality of the evening. Blushing girls in their frilly formals, beaming boys in their first tuxedos, soft music, and the whirl of the dancing couples brought the junior year to an enchanting climax.

Juniors, Susie Brown and Diane Eggers, danced in the all-school party talent show.

Sophomores begin their year with an air of confidence—confident in their knowledge of H.H.S. and what makes it tick, of school customs, of how to study and make their grades, and of all the friends they made their freshman year.

One of the first things a freshman notices as he makes the rounds of his first classes in a new school is how few of his own classmates he knows. Yes, the first year is one of adjustment, adjusting to the seniors' ribbing, getting acquainted with classmates, finding out what's expected of him in tougher classes, and sampling some of the many H.S. social activities.

Freshmen, Larry Scott, John Rudolph, Verna Easton, and Karen Hamacher, take time out to enjoy the spring air.

Three dapper freshman boys, Ray Yarck, Kenneth Waugh, and Dan Davis, try to figure out what has happened to Hammond High's lost pigeons.

SCHOOL BOARD

In 1958 Dr. Oliver L. Rapp completed his ninth year as principal of Hammond High. Since he started in 1949, the enrollment has grown from 1460 pupils to 1900. Dr. Rapp, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois, has capably handled this uprise in enrollment. With many more interviews to be held, letters to be written, and jobs to be taken care of, Dr. Rapp still found time to individually counsel students who wished to talk to him.

There were some decided changes made in the office staff. Pat Ovanek was married and is now Mrs. Grzybowski. Mrs. Corliss Lien, a 1954 Hammond High graduate was added to the staff. While this was Corliss' first year, it was Hazel Lindstrom's thirty-first year at Hammond High. Hazel was also a graduate of Hammond High. She is indispensable to students and faculty.

Hazel Lindstrom is busily checking the absentee slips, just one of her many duties.

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.
